FRANKFORT, KY., July 6, 1887.

The Frankfort Literary Society has been organized, and will hold its first public meeting at the court-house, at 8 o'clock on Thursday night, July 14. The friends of literature and science are invited. The object of the society is to develop the brains and culture of the community, and elevate the standard of enlightened thought among our people. The exercises will embrace the study and diffusion of whatever may be thought beautiful, edifying, or useful, in the vast empire of literature, science, and art.

Judge Wm. Lindsay will deliver the opening oration, to be followed by a spirited discussion of the Convict Labor Question, by Hon. Ira Julian, Hal. Corbet, L. F. Johnson, and B. G. Williams. Rev. G. C. Kelly will read a paper on the New Theology; Dr. Sam. E. James, a paper on Light; Dr. E. M. Gober, another paper, on Sleep. Col. Tom. Ford will have a poem on Frankfort's New Era. We have some reason to expect, also, original poems from the gifted pens of Major Stanton, Mrs. Jennie C. Morton, Mrs. Leslie Collins, and others; and after the first meeting, we hope for contributions from the genius of Robert Burns Wilson, and other distinguished writers. The whole of these ceremonies will be enlivened with the most charming songs and music, under the direction of Prof. Wayland Graham and Walter Franklin, Jr. Col. T. B. Ford will act as general critic, which insures spice and pleasure for the audience. All friends of literature, both ladies and gentlemen, are invited to attend this first meeting, and if the exercises meet their approval, to repeat their encouraging attendance during the season, and thus aid in building up a society, organized for mutual improvement and the general good.

The Frankfort Cemetery Company have contracted with the Frankfort Water Company for the construction of three hydrants on their grounds. One is to be located on the Catholic grounds, the second near the lot owned by Judge G. W. Craddock, and the third near the State military monument. This will be of great advantage to the grounds and to the visitors to that beautiful spot.

The Clay Bank and Coon Clubs were conspicuous in the torch light procession, and both proved that the members had good lungs.

A Manchester Millwright.

H. F. Newell is the well-known millwright who resides at Manchester, opposite Richmond. He is known all through Eastern and Southern Virginia, where he has been writing mills for many years. An accident happened to him four years ago, the main particulars of which he details in this letter:

RICHMOND, VA.,
April 15th, 1887.

Gentlemen—Four years ago a blow on my left shin cracked the bone. Since then I have had trouble nearly all the time with erysipelas in that leg. The least little thing would cause inflammation and breaking out. From time to time I have driven off the inflammation by short courses of S. S. S.

Four weeks ago Saturday night the leg was broken out and covered with festering blisters. I took four bottles of S. S. S. and now the leg is entirely well, the skin being as smooth and fair as a woman's.

NO SPECULATION, But a Safe Investment.

"Our doubts are traitors,
And make us lose the good we oft might win,
By fearing to attempt."

We often hear the lamentations of those who visited St. Paul six years ago and failed to invest, because they thought it would not grow much more. But stronger still will be the vain regrets of those who have a little money now, and fail to invest it here, because they have been so unfortunate as not to see St. Paul. The country is just beginning to realize what St. Paul has done in late years, and what a future it has before it. There is no city in the Union with its size, business and future prospects, where property is near as cheap.

The following comparative statement of real estate values, obtained from leading conservative agencies in the respective cities, during April, 1887, speaks for itself:

	Population.	Highest Price per front Foot Business Property.	Residence.	Highest Adjoining Acreage per acre.
Chicago	750,000	$6,000	$700	$7,000
Buffalo	240,000	3,000	350	2,000
Cleveland	227,000	3,500	500	1,500
Milwaukee	165,000	1,500	200	3,000
Detroit	155,000	2,000	300	3,000
Minneapolis	140,000*	2,000	300	3,500
St. Paul	140,000	1,300	300	2,000
Kansas City	105,000	3,500	300	5,000
Indianapolis	90,000	800	150	300
Omaha	78,000	1,200	150	5,000
Toledo	50,000	1,100	100	1,000
Duluth	20,000	1,000	100	1,500

The "Twin Cities," St. Paul and Minneapolis are only ten miles apart from centre to centre; have only about five miles of a partly vacant space between them, and have a common corporation line between them therein. These cities, which in 1880 had only 41,000 and 46,000 inhabitants respectively, have now 140,000, possibly nearer 150,000 each, and the tide of immigration is pouring in faster than ever. Considerably more than one-third of the immigration of this country finds a home in the territory immediately tributary to

ST. PAUL'S IMMENSE TRADE.

Nineteen railroads run into the city, ten of these being big trunk lines, making it

The Third Railroad Centre in the United States.

The completion this year of the Minneapolis, Sault Ste Marie and Atlantic Road will give it direct communication with New York, independent of Chicago, and will put it one hundred miles nearer the Atlantic coast.

At the head of Navigation on the Mississippi,

And only one hundred miles from Lake Superior, it can laugh at the terrors of the Inter-State Commerce Law. The rich country all around is filling up more and more, and new railroads are springing into existence with wonderful rapidity, making still larger fields for its already immense wholesale trade. Its great manufactures are daily increasing, and it is rapidly becoming the centre of the STOCK-YARD AND PACKING INDUSTRIES.

There are more millionaires here than in any city of twice its size on the Continent. All the causes that have for the last five years operated to make St. Paul a great city, are working more strongly than ever, and, being in the centre of the richest and most rapidly developing part of the United States, St. Paul and Minneapolis

WILL SOON BE ONE IMMENSE CITY.

"By every argument that can be drawn from the past, by every present material condition, by the certain promise of the city's situation and surroundings, by every proof which has been tried in the experience of city growth, St. Paul feels assured that the era of prosperity now upon the city is to witness changes more astounding and more satisfying than those which have already made it the wonder and admiration of all, whose good fortune it has been to visit the city and in a measure become acquainted with her institutions."

We have a large number of Southern customers, and all their investments have either been sold out at a large profit, in some cases

Three Hundred Per Cent. Per Annum,

Or have largely advanced in value. An investment made with moderate judgment here is sure to net the owner from

25 TO 100 PER CENT. PER ANNUM.
